Quality matters. For customized projects such as these, we present actual samples before production so clients can inspect the materials, printing, size, and construction firsthand.

Feedback and agreed adjustments are confirmed before production begins, helping align the finished order with the client's expectations.

HP Christmas Promotional Campaign

Produced for Great Minds Integrated Consultancy Inc.

Myco Mega Printing developed a practical tear-to-reveal prize mechanic for two-foot-tall Christmas promotional displays used in an HP retail campaign.

Production & assembly

Offset-printed tree bases were assembled with digitally printed gift layers and perforated ball covers. Our team handled manual gluing, assembly, numbering, and checking of the completed sets.

Control numbers & coordinated gift sets

A small number at the bottom of each tree linked it to a master list and its assigned gifts. Completed sets were delivered to Great Minds, which handled distribution to participating HP stores.

Schneider Electric Demo Kit | 2017

Project coordinated through Great Minds Integrated Consultancy Inc.

Working from supplied design specifications, our team handled the fabricated structure, printed components, interior compartments, finishing, and assembly of a customized presentation kit.

Corporate promotional materials

From approximately 2013 to 2020, our printing operations handled projects through Great Minds involving campaigns associated with HP, Rapoo, Schneider Electric, and other brands. These included flyers, tent cards, display materials, customized folders, and other marketing requirements.

Great Minds was our corporate client. The associated brands are identified as campaign references, not as direct contracting clients.
